

Reiki

Reiki is a form of laying on of the hands for channeling healing energy. Reiki has helped people heal from countless ailments from sprained ankles to terminal illnesses that modern medicine still has not found a cure for. Its value for reducing stress, reducing pain, and quickening the healing process has been acknowledged by the medical profession.

Taking a Reiki class enables you to be a certified Reiki practitioner.

Becoming a Reiki practitioner means learning how to be a channel for spiritual healing and assistance to other people. It is meant for people who have the compassion to help others. Participants who takes this class reports either an increase in psychic or intuitive abilities or an expanded awareness of subtle energies. Even people who have been healers for many years report an enhancement of ability to channel healing energy.

Reiki I (March 3, 2018) includes learning to give a complete Reiki session and attunement to the Reiki power symbol, opening one to become channels of healing energy.

Reiki II (April 7, 2018) works with the mental and emotional bodies and enhances intuitive abilities. Students receive 2 additional attunements and training on distance healing.

Reiki III – (May 5th) ART (Advanced Reiki Training - Master)

This class provides the benefit of the master attunement for those who wish to enhance their practice, and who do not feel called to teach Reiki. The master attunement significantly increases the practitioner's ability to channel healing energy. Students receive the Usui master symbol, as well as instruction on the use of Reiki crystal grids.
